Dear FDA:

I am concerned about the use of the terms "cold pasteurization" and "electronic pasteurization". I feel these terms are misleading and should not be used.

I would also like to demand you use labeling irradiated food as such. For example: "Irradiation", "Irradiated" and the use of the radura symbol, when needed.

I hope that you do not scoff at this request and label me a ~~xxx~~ "purist". I'm doing this out of love for myself and my body as well as yours. I would hope you would look into this issue with a broader mind and a more open heart and realise the potential for damaging consequences if we allow big food conglomerates to continue ~~xxxxx~~ lowering the common denominator with misleading and confusing labels.

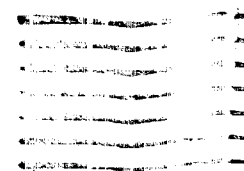

Yours in Living,
